

till God pulls down the walls outside—your job is to pull them down inside!

Rahab was the lowest of the low, a harlot who lived on the wall. But something in her believed the reports of Israel's victories and the walls in her heart fell. As far as she was concerned it was a done deal, God was going to give her city to the armies of Israel.

This lesson is so vital to us. Until God does it around you he wants to do it in you. When faith is full in your heart it drives out doubt. When love is complete it drives out fear. Are the walls down in your heart? Do you walk in peace and love? Don't look outside, look inside.

I discovered long ago that there are many things I can't change around me. But for sure I can change what is in me. If there is no place of peace around me, then there is going to be peace within me. My reaction is the key element of victory. I take it to God; I listen to what he says and tenaciously hold on to it. Learn to love your life today by going inside with God, let his peace and love rest your soul!!

Faith is pulling down inside what Satan has built up outside. Pray until you believe, pray until you get a word, pray till the doubts fade and the fear goes away. If in the spirit you can see your family saved they will be saved. I remember as a young boy I faced going to the dental office the next morning. I dreaded the drill and I knew

I had a big cavity. So on the Sunday night I stayed in the altar for a long time. I prayed and prayed over my tooth. Suddenly peace filled my heart and I was no longer afraid. Sure enough when mom took me in the next morning there were no cavities. I have never forgotten that lesson, that if I pray long enough to let my fears die, faith in God will do anything! God help us to keep this lesson before us.
