

The Who & The Do

“he justified forever those whom he is making holy”

The who: is us whom he has justified forever. You need to remember that, because Satan’s artillery is aimed at your relationship. He wants to blast away all your righteousness and tell you that you are not who God says you are. We are the righteousness of God in Christ Jesus. Our position is eternally set, we are sons and daughters. We may stumble and fall many times but we are restored as we stay in fellowship with God. God is merciful, full of compassion, and wanting to forgive those who pursue him with honesty.

The do: is the process of making us holy. Because of our position, the Holy Ghost is continually at work in us to create the personality of Christ. This inward work is mighty and it’s the difference in fighting the devil or fighting ourselves all our life. Satan is not the problem, we are the problem. The people who are willing to submit to the inward work will devastate the devil in the outward working of God’s power. Jesus said, “Satan is coming and has nothing in me.” The inward work was done, and we know what he did to Satan outwardly, he stripped him of his power.

Be able to separate your who from your do. Know who you are in God and don’t let one speck of condemnation in your life. But on the other hand, do, fully submit to the mighty in working of the Holy Ghost so you can become a powerful weapon in the hands of God.

Going to prison for the truth: John the Baptist told Herod in Matt.14:4 ,“it is not lawful for you to have her.” He went to prison for that sermon. Herod had seduced his brother’s wife and got her to divorce him so he could marry her. Not only did prison come but John was eventually beheaded for his stand on righteousness. Is this not the reason why preachers today are afraid to preach the truth? They live much closer to people than to God and are controlled by public opinion. Like the Pharisees they love the praise of men more than the praise of God. But applause and the praise of man soon dies out and you’re left with yourself and what you did with the Gospel. God is waiting. The judge will adjudicate. God help us all!!
