

Testimony Spotlight

Frank Perez

The last few months have been a trial for me, having to deal with my father's illness, family responsibilities and job concerns. I've felt overwhelmed at times and did not know where my strength came from. I grew up in a Christian background and the foundation was laid for me about a loving God, whom I never really committed to. I knew Him as Savior, but I did not know Him as Lord, at least not until faced with my own mortality. Coming to Full Gospel Tabernacle, I've felt the Holy Spirit's presence and a sense of belonging. One of the things that had a hold on me was my smoking addiction. The very first day of walking into Full Gospel, that need was no longer prevalent in my life and I was able to let go of an almost 20 year habit. I previously had no will to give up on my own. I am grateful for a lot of things the Lord has done in my life and am glad to recommit my life to Jesus Christ, following the Lord last month in Water Baptism.

Thank you Lord!
