

A fruit of the spirit that only grows and develops under trial:

This is Vines definition of "Patience".

Patience is so important to God that He says it is the one fruit that will "perfect you". Perfect and complete lacking nothing is the end result but what about the cost?

We need to remember when we are in protracted trials, things that don't move and are sandpaper to our souls, that God is at work doing something wonderful for us by doing it in us!

Patience, whose twin is humility, is happy waiting, knowing God is in control and He will work it out in His time. Until then though, we are getting stronger everyday, more perfect in our ways, our trust is growing as well.

Patience is not just the ability to wait on God, but it's how you wait! It's your attitude while you're waiting. Are you resting in God? Are you full of joy and peace? Patience is the release of all things to God. Let it go and trust and enjoy life!

Pastor Chambers

"No man is greater than his prayer life. The pastor who is not praying is playing: the people who are not praying are straying. The pulpit can be a shop window to display one's talents; the prayer closet allows no showing off." Leonard Ravenhill
